PRISONERS ARE RELEASED ON EXAMINATION

Alleged Smugglers Are Arrested In Douglas With Mexican Horses In Their Possession but Prove Innocence Before United States Commissioner

DOUGLAS, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Omar Bundy and John W. Neagle, who were arrested on a charge of horse smuggling and were given a hearing before Commissioner Sames yesterday afternoon, were discharged although the horses they had with them are still in custody of the treasury department as smuggled property.

When the evidence in the so-called horse smuggling cases was heard before U. S. Commissioner Sames late yesterday afternoon it developed that there was no evidence of any intent to defraud the government the charge being more of a technical nature. There was no proof that the horses were brought across the line to be sold here or were in transit to some other point in the states or that they were not to be taken back to Mexico. In the absence of such proof a discharge was ordered but what will be done with the horses has not as yet been decided.

Car Leaves Track.

That the derailler in use on the Douglas street railway, where it crosses the railroad tracks, does just what it is intended to was demonstrated unintentionally last evening.

Recently a derrick on a car on the Nacozari tracks ripped the trolley wires out for several hundred feet on either side of the crossing. While this was being repaired the derailler was spiked over and not used. The repairs were all completed yesterday afternoon, the spikes removed and the derailler restored to use. The conductor and motorman had not made the run from town to the C. Q. smelter since the early afternoon and were not informed that the derailler had to be pulled as of yore and so started through without lifting the switch on their seven o'clock trip. Result, car derailed as it should have been, wrecking car caught out and an hour delay.

Some of the passengers thought they had a narrow escape while there was no danger and a four foot embankment, on top of which the car stopped, grew into stories of a narrow escape from a fifteen foot drop.

Died in Globe.

Word comes to this city of the sudden death of N. E. Adams, formerly of this city, at Globe as the result of a fourth paralytic stroke.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams formerly were in the confectionery business in this city on G avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets and left here to enter the same line of business in Globe. While in Douglas Mr. Adams suffered two strokes of paralysis and was on one occasion not expected to recover. He went to Globe about a year ago and suffered another shock there when again it was thought he must die. He recovered from the third shock however, and succumbed to the fourth.

International for Hundreds.

The advertising plans of the Chamber of Commerce and Mines were further perfected at a meeting of the advertising committee held last evening. It was not then determined what eastern and middle western papers are to be used as advertising mediums nor how long the campaign will be nor how much it is to cost.

but another matter was taken up and will be carried on. This is the sending of local news to enquirers and for this purpose the Saturday edition of the International is to be used.

This will mean that once a week between 2,000 and 2,500 eastern readers will have the news of Douglas and it will mean to the advertisers of the paper that much added circulation in the east and the mid die west. It will aid in the follow up work and will call attention to the life of Douglas as nothing else has ever done.

A campaign is to be started locally for membership and it is intended to add a hundred new members within the next two months. At the last board meeting there were added twelve new members and it is expected to average at least this number of newly elected members at each week's meeting of the board.

From a member of the organization who is not on the board but is one of the pushing business men of the city comes the excellent suggestion of monthly smokers of the entire membership. These could be held in the Gadsden Rathskeller, a jolly program could be arranged and business and pleasure could be mingled in just the right proportions. It would bring the business men of the city closer together, all would work in harmony and many suggestions would arise which would be of great value to the board in promoting the object of the organization besides benefiting city and citizens.

Didn't Know Law.

Ignorance of a city ordinance excused one man last night before Judge Rice. A Mexican came up from Nacozari with four children. He engaged a room in which a stove was to be placed today. The children being hungry the father built a fire back of the house and cooked supper. He was caught and arrested. He explained that he did not know the city law and that fires went in Nacozari. A lecture by the judge and he was told to go back to his little ones and offend no more.

Kelly-Hines Wedding.

Rev. E. W. Simonson of the Episcopal church last evening married William Kelly to Miss Annie Hines at the bride's home, Sixteenth and F. The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. J. Hines. A large number of friends of the young couple were present. They will make their home for the present at Fourteenth and B.

Coal is High.

Ten dollars for a sack of coal, just fifty pounds, seems high but it is what the fuel cost one man in Douglas yesterday morning. Dick Mills stole fifty pounds of coal from the Southwestern. He was caught, arrested and fined $10, which he paid.

Russell in El Paso.

Police Chief Liles has a note from Russell announcing his arrival at the Providence hospital in El Paso in good shape, having stood the trip well. It also says he intends to remain in that institution for a time.

Mrs. Nemick, wife of the fire chief, and her children are visiting her sister, Mrs. George W. Stewart of Bisbee. Later they will go to Tombstone where they will visit in the home of recorder C. A. McDonald.

Will Examine Property.

Charles Hanson and Jacob Sheerer will go to the Swissheims tomorrow to examine a property of Mr. Sheerer's upon which he plans development work if the examination is satisfactory.

CHIEF DEPUTY WILL MANAGE CATTLE RANCH

Porter McDonald Tenders His Resignation to Sheriff White and Will Make His Home In Hereford In the Future

(Special Correspondence.)
TOMBSTONE, October 8.—Deputy Sheriff Porter McDonald, who has been acting as chief deputy under Sheriff White for several years, has tendered his resignation to that official too take effect at once and this morning went to Hereford where he assumed charge of the Greene Cattle company's interests at Hereford, taking the place recently vacated by Max Axford, who intends to leave shortly for Texas to take charge of a ranch in that state. Deputy McDonald has been connected with the sheriff's office for a number of years. His family will remain in Tombstone for the present but later will take up their residence at Hereford. So far Sheriff White has not announced the name of Mr. McDonald's successor.

Another Divorce Case Filed.

John Inland of Douglas has brought suit in the district court against Gertrude Inland for divorce on the grounds of desertion. The complaint alleges that the couple were married in September, 1906.

Judge Goodbody Refused.

Judge Goodbody is always ready to accommodate those who wish to have his services in uniting the nuptial bonds, but the other night he said he had to refuse and says he seriously objects to being awakened in the middle of the night only to find out the case was a "dead one" and no union of the realm in sight. A few nights ago he was aroused from his slumbers about the midnight hour by a knock at the door and was informed by a man that he wanted the judge to perform a marriage ceremony. The judge went back into the house and completed his toilet and soon returned to the awaiting bridegroom. On the way up town the judge asked the prospective groom if he had the necessary license. The groom replied "No." The judge then informed him that it would be necessary for him to secure one. The groom replied "No, I did not get one because I could not." The judge asked why, and received the astonishing reply that he wanted to marry a colored woman and the clerk refused to issue him one. The judge went straight up about this time and informed the would-be groom that there was nothing doing and rapidly retraced his steps to his home and crawled back into bed. His thoughts are best not printed. The would-be groom is an old miner and prospector who has resided in the vicinity of Gleason for a number of years, but at the time of making the request of the judge was somewhat under the influence of liquor.

To Collect Raise.

Unless enjoined from doing so in each instance, County Tax Collector Hicks will endeavor to collect the raise made by the Territorial Board of Equalization on the patented mine of Cochise county. He has been advised by District Attorney Williams that it is his duty to do so as that amount of taxes are charged up against him on the tax roll. Mr. Hicks will accept no partial payments on property; that is he will not accept the county and Territorial taxes levied on mining property, unless the money is also forthcoming for the territorial raise. This practice has been followed heretofore but will not be followed by him. It is all or none this time.

NURSES FOR FAMISHED DOGS

New Occupation for Girls in London, and It Pays Well.

With the increasing craze for dogs of rare and valuable breeds as pets in England a new employment for girls has been created. They can become dog nurses.

It is no uncommon thing to see in the squares and parks a pretty girl in a neat uniform with two or three valuable little dogs on leash, giving them their daily airing. She is a dog nurse, and this is only one of her duties.

Besides the exercising of the pet the nurse must see to their food which is no small matter. Special things are cooked and the dogs must be carefully watched while they eat to see that nothing goes wrong. Then the bath is a serious affair. Sometimes a silver bathtub is used and scented water.

The nurse must also look after the toilet of her charges. When they go out with their mistress she must see that they are in proper trim, with their little coats carefully brushed and cleaned and their jeweled collars bright and sparkling.

After they have rested at night her time is her own, and for the most part she considers her five dollars a week very easily earned, for she has her board and lodging provided as well as her uniform.

One of the great requisites for the new profession is that the applicant shall have an extinct sense of humor.

Origin of the Name of Ireland.
The name of Ireland, according to Prof. Joyce, who is authority on the antiquities of the country, is derived from the native Celtic name Eire, just as the name of Scotland is derived from the name of Scott, the terminal being added in both cases by the English and originally spelled Eire-land and Scotland. Hibernia was the Roman name, sometimes spelled Hibernian, as Scotia was the Roman name for Scotland.

Making the Best of Life.
Thrift is not at all synonymous with miserliness. Thrift is industry, utilizing the present to care for the future. The miser saves his money, but wastes his life. The wise man who acquires habits of thrift conserves both and puts them to the best advantage, realizing that he can pass through the world but once and that it is for him to make the most of it while he is in it.—Exchange.

Women Run a Swiss Town.

Froussy, in the Canton of the Aeron, dismembered of Clermont, is run by women. Five important officials of the little town being of the sex. The post woman has a hereditary title to the office, the mother of Mme. Dauboin having held it before her. The telegraph office is in charge of Mme. Lesobre, Miss Jeanne Marchandin takes the photographs, Marie Dubouché-Mallard is the town crier and Mme. Tal lefer presides over the railway station.

Decorations for Women.
There are few decorations for women in Europe, the most ancient order coming from the Austrian throne. It is the decoration of the Star and Cross, and is given to women of high rank. Another is the Laisan, founded in memory of the beautiful queen of Prussia, whom Napoleon insulted. This order is given to all classes of women who commit any great self-sacrifice.

Europe's Oldest Church.

The oldest church in Europe is said to be that of St. Pudenziana at Rome. About the middle of the first century, a certain Roman senator had a house on this spot. He was a Christian convert of St. Paul, who lodged with him from A. D. 41 to 50. For the religious uses of himself and his guests he built a small chapel in his house, which was later supplemented by the present church.

The Land.
We are at last working round to some conception of what the land is or ought to be in the scheme of national well-being. We are at last beginning to see that there is hardly any great social question, however urban it may seem at first, that is not ultimately to be traced back to this problem or that of the open country.—London World.

Mammoth Beets of New Mexico.

From Mora comes a story of huge beets more than two feet long and weighing only a trifle less than 12 pounds. There are said to be two of these monster tubers there, and it is claimed they were grown on the farm of a native who lives several miles up the valley from the town of Mora. It is the intention of the Mora county grange to send these monster beets to the irrigation congress.—Las Vegas Optic.

Thieves and Humor.
The reason why cockneys are such smart thieves is that they have a keen sense of humor. The street arab picks your pocket while he grins at you. It is only stupid thieves who are serious. Poor Oliver Twist's sorrows were the cause of his arrest. The humor of the Artful Dodger and Charley Bates saved them.—Strand Magazine.

A Triumph in Science.
Biggame—They tell me Prof. Hopkins has at last perfected his airship. Snuggums—"He has. There are only two things left to complete." Biggame—"What are they?" Snuggums—"Hopkins says it'll be great if he can only make it stay up and go ahead."

This Queer World.
And the mystery still lingers—why is it necessary to salt a fish caught in the salt ocean? A sea bass caught off Seabright, requires just as much salt in the seasoning as a black bass caught in the saltiest waters of Lake Erie.—New York Press.
